

PRIVACY POLICY

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully. You understand and agree that, by visiting or using any website, mobile application or web service governed by this Privacy Policy, you consent to the processing of information as set forth in this Privacy Policy.

HAS COMPANIES (HAS) respects the privacy of its subscribers and visitors to [COMPANY WEB SITE].

For this reason, HAS COMPANIES (HAS) would like users to be aware of how HAS COMPANIES (HAS) uses any personal information provided by users when using hascompanies.com. HAS COMPANIES (HAS) does not automatically recognise any information from a domain or e-mail address when you enter the site. Any information collected is used only:

- To improve the content of our website
- To personalise the content of our website for each individual visitor
- To inform the user about updates to the website
- To communicate with you for marketing purposes, if you have given your permission to do so.
- Any information collected is not shared with other organisations for commercial purposes. The company also collects "Other Information" that does not reveal the specific identity of the user, such as:

- Browser information
- Information collected through cookies, pixel tags and other demographic and other user-supplied information technologies; and aggregated information.
- Other information obtained in various ways, including:

Through your Internet browser: Most websites collect certain information, such as your IP address (i.e., the address of your computer on the Internet), your screen resolution, operating system type (Windows, Mac, iOS, Android) and version, Internet browser type and version, time of visit, and page(s) visited. The Company uses this information for purposes such as calculating Site usage levels, helping diagnose server problems and administering the Site.

THE USER'S E-MAIL ADDRESS

Email address information is collected only when a user communicates with the company via email or when the user volunteers this information, such as in a survey and/or when registering on the site. If the user does not wish to receive information from the company by e-mail, the user should check the appropriate option on any of our contact forms, or contact the company at the address provided above.

THE USER'S POSTAL ADDRESS

If you provide us with your postal address via the Internet, you may receive periodic mailings from us with information about new products or services, or upcoming events. If you do not wish to receive such correspondence, you may indicate this preference when placing your order. Alternatively, you may also contact the company at the addresses listed above.

You may also receive correspondence from other reputable companies. If you do not wish to receive such correspondence, you may indicate this preference when placing your order. Alternatively, you may also contact the company at the addresses listed above.

THE USER'S TELEPHONE NUMBER

If you provide your telephone numbers to the company via the Internet, you will only receive telephone communications from the company with information about orders you have placed on the Internet.

COOKIES

Cookies are pieces of information that are stored directly on the computer you are using. Cookies allow the Company to recognise your computer and collect information such as browser type, time spent on the Site, pages visited and language preferences. The Company may use the information for security purposes, to facilitate navigation, to display information more effectively, to personalise your experience while visiting the Site, or to collect statistical information about the use of the Site.

AD SERVERS

The company is not affiliated with or has any special relationship with any ad server company.

USER RIGHTS

Upon request, the company provides site visitors with access to all information (including proprietary information) it holds about them, including financial information (e.g., credit card account information) unique identifier information (e.g., customer number or password) transaction information (e.g., the dates on which customers made purchases, amounts and types of purchases) communications that the consumer/visitor has directed to our site (e.g., messages from customers), customer number or password) transaction information (e.g., dates on which customers made purchases, quantities and types of purchases) communications that the consumer/visitor has directed to our site (e.g., e-mail messages, customer enquiries) contact information (e.g., name, address, phone number).

Upon request, the company offers visitors the possibility to correct errors in this information. In order to correct this information, consumers may write to the company at the address indicated above.

The company may, from time to time, use customer information for new uses not contemplated by its privacy policy notice. If the company's information practices change at any time in the future, the company will notify users of the changes through its web site. You will have the opportunity to opt-out of these new uses. If you are concerned about how your information is used, you should check the Company's Web site frequently.

If you believe that this site does not follow the above information policy, you may contact the company at the above address.

If you do not agree with any part of this Privacy Policy, either as currently worded or as amended by us, your only option is not to use the websites, mobile applications or web services governed by this Privacy Policy.

SITE SECURITY

HAS COMPANIES (HAS) uses industry standard SSL encryption technologies when transferring and receiving sensitive information (e.g. credit card details and personal information). The pages on which this information is exchanged are located on a secure server.

Once logged in, the beginning of the page address (URL) will change from http to https, to indicate that the user is in a secure area. A key or closed padlock icon will also appear in the bottom right hand corner of most browsers to indicate this change. The user will remain in this secure area for the duration of their visit to the site.

The company will take appropriate technical, physical, legal and organisational measures consistent with applicable privacy and data security laws.

Unfortunately, no data transmission over the Internet or data storage system can be guaranteed to be 100% secure.

If you have reason to believe that your interaction with the Company is no longer secure (for example, if you believe that the security of any Personal Information that the Company may hold has been threatened), you should immediately notify the Company.

ADDITIONAL QUESTIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Please note that this Privacy Policy is subject to change.

We recommend that you review this Privacy Policy periodically. If we make any changes to this Privacy Policy, we will update the effective date at the bottom of this page.
